

Call for Application for Adjunct Lecturer International Taxation

(Part of the course “International Company Law – International Taxation”)

LL.M. in International Business Law
University of Brussels (Université Libre de Bruxelles – ULB)

Deadline : 1 May 2026

Appointment Description

The LL.M. in International Business Law of the University of Brussels (Université Libre de Bruxelles, ULB) is hiring a new Adjunct Lecturer from September 2026 to teach International Taxation.

The LL.M. is a full-time 60 ECTS advanced post graduate program based in Brussels and is taught entirely in English. It caters to motivated students from around the world. The philosophy of the LL.M. is to offer a rigorous, coherent and comprehensive program that covers all of the core subjects of international business law, with a strong emphasis on practical experience. The LL.M. welcomes approximately 30-40 students from at least 4 continents each year and is taught in small interactive groups. The details of the program can be found on www.brusselsllm.com.

We are currently looking to fill a vacancy for an Adjunct Lecturer to teach International Taxation, as part of the course International Company Law – International Taxation. The course is taught as two separate modules with Kwinten Dewaele covering the part of the course focused on International Company Law.

The appointed lecturer will have significant autonomy to develop the specific course curriculum. The objective of the course is to provide students with an understanding of key topics of international taxation. The course acquaints students with the main tax issues that multi-national enterprises may face and the legal instruments and mechanisms designed to solve these issues. Emphasis is given to international tax treaties and the rationale for their provisions. The topics that are covered in the course include Fundamentals of International Tax Law, Scope of the International Tax Treaties, Taxation of Business Profits, Taxation of Personal Services Income and Taxation of Investment Income. The course should also emphasize customs duties.

Candidates will preferably hold a Ph.D. in law and demonstrate outstanding teaching ability and specific competence in the relevant field through professional experience and publications.

The position involves the teaching of 18 hours of class time (six classes of three hours) and supervision of Paper and Presentation projects. The class meets weekly for 12 weeks on Tuesdays from 15-18h at the ULB from February through May. Supervision of the Paper and Presentation may be in fall and/or spring semester depending on student interest. The position does not involve a contract of employment with the university, rather academic work is carried out on an independent basis under terms to be agreed.

Interested candidates should send a cover letter and academic curriculum vitae by 1 May 2026 to the Executive Manager and Head of Program at the following email address: brusselsllm@ulb.be.
