Are you a final-year student fascinated by tax and digital solutions? Then pack your bags! Join PwC on our annual Tax in the City adventure. We've been creating memories - and careers - on this action-packed city trip for over ten years. Here's a snapshot of what we've got in store for you!

- Discover our multi-faceted Consulting practices
- Tour the local PwC office and its leading-edge Experience Centre
- Become a tax expert by finding innovative ways to solve exciting business cases
- City game
- Participate in lots of activities and have a blast!

This year, we're off to Amsterdam. We leave Thursday morning, 17 November and return on Saturday afternoon, 19 November.

PwC's booked transportation and accommodation for two nights. We'll look after all meals, local transportation and tickets for various activities. You'll only need pocket money - and your toothbrush :-)

There's a serious purpose to this event: PwC is on the lookout for talent. Some of you may be subsequently offered a job - without any more interviews, in other words, you get fast-tracked through the recruitment process.

If you're ready to kick-off your career in September 2023 and interested in the exciting world of tax and digital solutions, then apply today for this epic event!
